

MHAA oversees Maryland's system of 13 locally-administered, state-Certified Heritage Areas. Today, all Maryland counties and Baltimore City have at least part of a Certified Heritage Area within their boundaries. Heritage areas foster broad public-private partnerships to preserve and enhance the best of Maryland's historic sites and towns, unspoiled natural landscapes, and enduring traditions.

Every dollar of MHAA state grant funding has a return on investment of $4.45, generates $19.8 million in state and local taxes, and creates 3,146 jobs annually.

MHAA is an independent unit of state government administered by the Maryland Department of Planning. Since its creation in 1996, MHAA has awarded more than $41 million in grants and helped to leverage more than $1.6 billion in non-state funding for heritage tourism projects and activities in Maryland's 13 Certified Heritage Areas.
